Deutschland Leaves For Home Disguised By Sea-Green Paint

Submarine Passed Pangier Point at Six A. M. But Has Not Been Seen Since---Waiting Till Nightfall

THOUSANDS WATCH FOR ITS APPEARANCE

Norfolk, Va, August 2—(By United Press)—The German cargo submarine Deutschland passed Pangier island, 50 miles up from Cape Charles at 6 o'clock this morning, but had not been heard from nearer Norfolk at 8.30 a. m. In this port it was believed that she might not come into Hampton Roads until night fall Marine men awaiting the under-sea boat's arrival had expected to see her here earlier, believing that she would reach Norfolks about 9 o'clock

At noon Norfolk and Newport News were nearly blind from the strain of looking across the waters outside of Hampton Roads in the hope for a glimpse of the Deutschland either coming or going on her way to sea.

No Virginia pilot has yet been asked for, and this strengthens the belief that Captain Koenig intends to lie somewhere up in the bay during the day Some possibilities that the Deutschland would shoot on out through the capes without touching here was seen in the fact of the weather conditions of the early morning, which made it perfect for the hazzard. A heavy haze concealed boats at a distance of two miles This same haze has hid the warships of the allies lying somewhere outside and caused the commander of the North Carolina to bring the American neutrality protector inside Cape Henry where she waited early this morning for the Deutschland to appear.

Baltimore, August 2—The Deutschland, the first merchant undersea boat to cross the Atlantic ocean, hade farewell to Baltimore yesterday afternoon and started her return journey toward Germany, through the allied blockade.

It was just 5 38 o'clock when the lines were thrown off and the craft was towed from her berth at the foot of Andre street, Locust Point, amid the blasts of whistles from the water craft surrounding, all of which seemed to wish the submersible good luck

The Deutschland was painted a sea green The irregular lines across the whaleback were of a dirty white and when the boat reaches deep water it will be impossible to distinguish her once she submerges When seen a few days ago the boat was painted a steel gray

The sailors on the submarine waved their handkerchiefs and hats in response to the cheers of those who wished them "bon voyage". The crew of the North German Lloyd liner Neckar, tied up at this port, stood at attention along the rail of the steamer as the Deutschland passed Their faces beamed as they saluted and shouted farewell cheers in German

These cheers were not all The Neckar gave another demonstration of best wishes in hoisting signal flags, which in code means "Homeward bound Good luck"

Then the German colors were unfurled from the stern of the larger ship It was the first time since the arrival of the submarine that the red white and black emblem has floated from the masts of the Neckar

HUGE CROWDS THRONG TENT AT CHAUTAUQUA

Two Excellent Concerts By The Strollers Quartet Pleases Audience

BIJOU TRIO HERE TONIGHT

About eight hundred people thronged the big Chautauqua tent at both the afternoon and evening entertainments yesterday which were given by the college players and the Strollers quartette One of the largest crowds which has attended any entertainment yet was present at the one last evening on account of the doubly attractive program which was offered by the management

The Strollers quartette which is one of the best known on the Chautauqua platform rendered an exceptionally interesting program yesterday afternoon, which consisted of reading impersonation, instrumental music and bell ringing It was probably the best entertainment of its kind that has ever been given here at Chautauqua The entertainment in the evening was cut short on account of a play "Happiness" but was most interesting and was well received by the audience

"Happiness" a morality play written especially for Chautauqua organization made a big hit with the audience it being the best play of its kind ever to be given here All parts were well portrayed The costumes and scenery were better than usually seen on the Chautauqua platform The moral which the play taught was one of truly merit

This evening the entertainment will be given by the Pitt Bijou Trio of which much favorable comment has been made in this city

The concert consists of operatic selections, Negro spirituals, humorous songs in costume, and a miscellaneous concert program of high class vaudeville attractions

The Bijou Trio has been given a Reception by the Marching Order of Knights of Pythias and Uniform Rank at their lodge rooms on Market street at 8 o'clock this evening

Joint Committee Will Try To Prevent Nation-Wide R.R. Strike

Representatives of 400,000 Employees Will Meet Employers' Committee in New York on August 8th

Washington, August 2—(By United Press) The executive board of the Big Four Brotherhood which threatens a nation wide strike of 400 000 railroad employees will meet a joint commission of the roads for a conference to begin August 8th according to information received by the United States Mediation and Conciliatory Board today

Three hundred thousand men earning annually $400 000 000 employed on 250,000 miles of railroad The strike would incon venience, according to railroad economists, the greatest transportation tie up in the history of the country It is estimated that more than $1 000 000 a day would be lost to the railroads in wages alone while the loss of the strike it would send the financial losses to the nation soaring into the billions of dollars

Reports reached Washington that the railroaders will vote overwhelmingly to go ahead with the strike unless their demands are granted If the strike comes, there are half a dozen resolutions will instantly be made Congress will withhold any action in the hopes of the possibility that the trouble may be averted, either by immediate settlement of by mediation On these measures congress will perhaps have one of the hottest fights that the country has ever seen

Russians Report Enveloping Movement Near Completion About Kovel Front

FRENCH REPORT MANY GAINS

London, August 2.—(By United Press) — North and south of the Somme and on the eastern front German troops and their allies were further forced backward in the course of the last 24 hours, according to official statements from the capitals of the triple Entente today The Russian wedge separating the German and Austrian armies was driven ahead today so that the encirclement has been practically completed, petrograd dispatches declare.

The enveloping movement [illegible] is progressing, and it is believed that the railway terminus at Stojanef is now in Russian hands. This would give the Czar's armies control of all railway communications with Lemberg The utilization of the railways taken has greatly aided the Russians in their advance.

The French Communique states that the French has captured powerful fortifications between Hem and Monacu, and occupied German trenches northwest of Nersecourt. In the Campaigne region the Russian troops charged and dispersed the German forces. One hundred prisoners were taken.

Berlin, August 2.—(By United Press)— The speakers throughout the empire at yesterday's "Honorable Peace Meetings" agreed that there would be another year of war. Reports of these meetings received today emphasized the unity of feeling in this respect among the public. Speakers delivered the same speech to audiences in 49 different cities outside Berlin

The meeting held in the capital here of massed crowds showed the utmost enthusiasm toward Germany's position as to the termination of the war It was apparent from the large majority of the reports of these meetings of the German public opinion of unity on the basis of her arguments that peace cannot come about on the basis of condition prior to the war

BOARDERS WANTED

Meals and bed can be had by any resident of DuBois who makes the proper application to the County Commissioners and is accepted by them. Price is reasonable; only forty cents per day, but Palm Beach Suits, meals served in room and auto trips will be charged extra. Old fashioned home made bread, farm produce from a heavily capitalized farm and grub that is paid for by the County of Clearfield makes a capital bill of fare. DuBois should worry.

LET THE OTHER FELLOW WORRY

The DuBois Express is considerably wrought up over the inaction of DuBois council at their meeting night before last on several matters. According to reports about the only thing they acted favorably upon was the acceptance of the contract offered by the County Commissioners for the keeping of the poor of the city of DuBois at forty cents per day and charges for extras. They jumped at that like a trout at a fly. We desire to suggest to the Express that the council earned their money that night in the acceptance of the little plum offered them by their townsmen.

ADVERTISING GERMANY

Now that the Deutschland is gone we will look for the Bremen. When it has gone we will look for the dirigible they promise to send us. With the departure of the dirigible we can reasonably expect some other big sensation to be sprung on us by the indefatigable Germans. It is exceedingly doubtful whether the trip of the Deutschland will in the end prove profitable in cargo on account of the great risk involved. Germany years ago learned the value of advertising and the trip of the Deutschland is nothing more or less than an advertising venture and has brought great returns to the German Empire already. In Baltimore Germany and her inventive plans, her perseverence and her adroit moves in the submarine project are admired today where a few weeks ago there was nothing but scorn. Mayor Preston saw fit to honor the commander with every means at his command and the whole city joined in with him. Germany's advertising by such novel means has created a world of sentiment for her.

SWISS REPUBLIC'S NATAL DAY

Washington, D. C., August 2.—The Swiss legation in this city is in receiptt of advices from all parts of the United States where colonies of the Swiss people are in existence, telling of the elaborate fetes and fairs held during the past two days in celebration of the anniversary of Swiss nationality. The celebrations have been more fervent and heartfelt than in years because of the deep patriotism around as a result of Switzerland being surrounded by warring nations. Funds raised at the various celebrations will be forwarded through the Swiss legation to the home government whose resources have been seriously taxed by the war.

The present year marks the 625th anniversary of Swiss nationality. It was on August 1, 1291, that the men of Uri, Unterwalden and Schwyz joined in a solemn league and covenant forever against the Austrians. Their action is regarded as the foundation of the Swiss confederation.

BISHOP GRACE 75 YEARS OLD

Sacramento, Cal., August 2.—Rt. Rev. Thomas Grace, bishop of Sacramento and one of the best known Catholic prelates on the Pacific coast, was the recipient of many congratulations today on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. Bishop Grace was born and educated in Ireland, but his entire career as a churchman, covering a period of half a century, has been passed in this section. Previous to becoming bishop of Sacramento twenty years ago he had filled pastorates in various cities and towns of Nevada and California. Preparations are in progress for an appropriate circulation next year in honor of the golden jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

The National Geographic society's war geography bulletin issued in Washington today, thus describes Medina, Arabia, where the Turks are reported to have been signally defeated by the Arab revolutionists commanded by Sheriff Abduldah:

"'The City of the Prophet' 'The Perfumed' and 'The Illumined' are the names by which Medina is known to devout Mohammedans. As a place of pilgrimage it is second only to Mecca, the birthplace of the prophet. Although two or three travelers and students have evaded the cardon established by 'the faithful,' the city is closed to all non-Mohammedans for here is buried the great leader and here also is the holy tomb of his favorite daughter, the famed Fatima.

"Medina's population is variously estimated, the extremes being 16,000 and 50,000. It is one of the chief cities of Hejaz, the most desolate province of Arabia, and is more than 800 miles southeast of Damascus and 250 miles north of Mecca. These three cities are now connected by a railway, the construction of which was begun by the Turkish sultan, Abdul Hamid, in 1900.

"The only outstanding architectural feature of the city is the great mosque with the mausoleum adjoining. Beneath the crescent-crowned green dome of the latter building is supposed to rest the body of the prophet, undefiled by decay, his face turned everlastingly towards Mecca. The legend that the coffin was supposed to be suspended in midair by means of magnets is now said to have been a Western invention, having no place in the traditions of the faithful.

'While its squat, burned-brick houses with their monotonous flat roofs are unimpressive and far from picturesque, yet the setting of the city, amid luxuriant date-palm gardens and extensive cornfields, is beautiful. The fortifications consist of a solid stone wall from 30 to 40 feet high, with 30 towers, making it the principal stronghold of the Hejaz province. In the angle formed by the wall in the northwest section of the city is a castle where even in peace times the Turks maintain a strong garrison.

"Medina enjoys better and more abundant water than most of the cities of the near east. The source of supply for its underground cistern system is Kabu, a village two miles to the south, in one of the richest oases of the region. It was here that Mohammed made his home between the time that he was compelled to flee from Mecca and his entrance into Medina.

"The Red Sea port for Medina is Yembo, 125 miles to the southwest. It is a place of transit for pilgrims from Egypt en route to the holy cities of Arabia."

National Capitol At Last Completed

LIFTING THE LAST STONE

Maybe you thought the National Capitol at Washington was completed about fifty years ago. But it wasn't. The last stone was laid the other day, and this is a photograph of the operation. This was the last step in the construction of the pediment of the east wing of the house of representatives, a companion piece to the pediments over the main entrance and the senate wing. This portion of the house wing has been blank since the house wing was nominally completed in 1857. An appropriation of $75,000 in 1908 provided for the final work. This final pediment has been constructed by Paul Bartlett, who calls the design "The Democracy of the United States as expressed by the types of the working people."

May Reframe Constitution of Tennessee at Big Convention

Nashville, Tenn., August 2.—The question of whether a convention shall be held to reframe the Constitution of Tennessee will be settled by a special State election to be held tomorrow. The election is the result of action taken byq the recent legislature, supplemented by the proclamation of Governor Rye.

If the election results in the affirmative, then the voters of the state will select, on November 13, their delegates to the Constitutional convention. On November 14 the delegates will assemble in Nashville and organize for the purpose of drafting amendments to the present constitution. The people will be given opportunity to express their wishes with regard to the changes which are desired or necessary. When the proposed amendments have been adopted by the convention the new constitution will be submitted to the voters for ratification.

The movement for a revision of the constitution is of an entirely non-partisan nature. The agitation for a remodeling of the form of state government was begun several years ago and the necessity for changes that would make the present constitution up-to-date has been urged by chambers of commerce, improvement bodies and other organizations throughout the state.

The results of tomorrow's election and the further progress in the steps to revise the constitution will be followed with keen interest throughout the south, since virtually every state in this section of the country is confronted by the same problems which Tennessee is now attempting to solve.

The Tennessee constitution is virtually the same it adopted when admitted into the union in 1796, copied in great part from the still older constitution of North Carolina. Although Tennessee has since adopted two constitutions, one in 1834 and another in 1870, both of these were virtually replicas of the old constitution in their main features.

Nearly all of the southern states find themselves more or less in the same position as regards their fundamental laws. That this is so is regarded as a most wholesome sign of the times for Dixie, for it means that the states of the South are progressing far beyond the dreams of the far-sighted men who drew the present constitutions.

In Georgia and Texas there has been an increasing public demand for revisions of their respective constitutions. The constitution of Texas is some six years the younger document. Georgia's present constitution was adopted in 1877, and in many of the features contained in it is governed by conditions succeeding the civil war, as is the case with the Tennessee constitution. The movement in Texas is rather more definite than in Georgia, and it is not unlikely that Texas will take up the question of revision within the next year or so.

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of type into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

GREAT MAJORITY OF ALL CROOKS REMAIN SINGLE

Investigation Proves Fact That Marriage Diminishes Crime

Cleveland, August 2.—(By United Press)—After an investigation of 400 criminal cases, James J. Lind, Cleveland chief police prosecutor, has found out that nine tenths of all crooks are unmarried. Two thirds of the men jailed were between the ages of 21 and 30, according to his figures, available here today.

"It seems that conditions in unmarried life tend to make men criminals or that persons with criminal instanets are inclined not to marry," concluded Lind after his investigation.

"In 400 cases which passed through my office there was no definite economic condition that would result in crime.

"Only about half of the married prisoners had children and many of the married ones were separated from their families.

"As a rule women who take up crime are also single or at least separated from their husbands or families.

"This is hard to prove because women prisoners are not inclined to tell the truth. When a woman lands in jail she generally claims to be married and says if her husband hears of her predicament he will forsave her forever. She also claims to be the mother of several small children, dependent on her care—all of which, nine times out of ten, is untrue.

"If a married man gets into trouble he generally commits a real crime, not a misdemeanor. If a married man with children finds his way behind the bars, it is usually money troubles which have placed him there.

"But if any particular class of the human family is a menace to the rest, unmarried men are the guilty ones.

"The way to lessen crime is to advocate early marriages. What a man needs to keep him out of trouble is a good home environment.

"If mothers realized this they would cease opposing early marriages."

BASEBALL

THE FAST TRAVELING YANKEES

The Yankees have registered twelve shutout victories up to the present time.

In club batting the Donovanites have been holding down third place and in club fielding have stood fourth.

Philadelphia and Washington have been the easiest picking for the Yanks so far this season, the New Yorkers having won eleven games from each.

Mullen is the only member of the Donovan crew who has been able to stick with the .300 class of hitters. But lack of .300 swatters has not prevented the team from winning games.

Pitcher Ray Caldwell, who started to hang up a healthy batting average earlier in the season, has suffered a big slump in stock work. Pitching for a top-line team doesn't give a heaver much time in which to train his batting eye.

While Lee Magee is hitting under .250, against .327 in the Federal league last season, the brilliant gardener is leading the Yanks in base-stealing and otherwise putting up a flashy game.

"Germany" Schaefer comes through for a share of credit for the Yanks' dash. He is in a class by himself when it comes to "makin' a bit o' fun" for the boys.

Being shifted from the down-trodden Athletics to the hustling Yanks seems to have given Rube Oldring a new lease of life. The former Machman started pastiming for New York at top speed.

Pitcher Bob Shawbey, another former Mack pupil, is improving steadily in his work for the Donovan crew and present indications are that he will be up among the leading twirlers of the league before long.

Two years ago Frank Baker, Rube Oldring and Bob Shawkey were big factors in the winning of the American league pennant by the Athletics. Now this same trio of pastimers are striving to duplicate the trick for the Yankees.

The Yankees have not finished a season in the first division since 1910, when they landed second place. Since 1903, the year in which the American league invaded New York, the team has never won a pennant and only four times has it finished in the first division. In 1908 and 1912 it finished in the cellar.

Nick Cullop, the Yanks' star heaver and leading pitcher of the American league, was formerly with the Cleveland Indians. Last year he worked for the Kansas City Federal League team and finished the season in a tie with Eddie Plank for third place in the league's pitching records. Both pitchers won 21 games and lost 11.

The Yanks have been the pride pippins of the season in the matter of disabled players. Few teams could stand the gaff with such players as Frank Baker, Frank Gilhooley, Fritz Naisel, Nick Cullop, Ray Caldwell and Hughey High all out of the game at the same time on account of injuries.

Before tackling the job of manager "Smiling Bill" Donovan had a great reputation as a pitcher. He starred in the big show for many years, first as a member of the Brooklyn Superbas and later with the Detroit Tigers. Bill's first managerial experience was gained at Providence, where his fine showing as a pilot won for him his present berth as boss of the Yanks.

ENCAMPMENT IN AUGUST MAY BE THE LAST ONE

Kansas City, Mo., August 2.—(By United Press)—Twenty thousand veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic will mobilize here August 29 for the fiftieth national encampment. The fact that this will be the golden jubilee reunion, that it may be the last great encampment and that it will be the first in this section of the country in many years may send the crowd of visitors to 125,000.

While the young blood of the country is mobilized on the Mexican border, the "boys of '61" who fought to save the union will gather here for what promises to be the final review.

When the grey-haired and stooped veterans pass in review, few are expected to march. With the armies of today thoroughly motorized, the old men who wear the bronze button will not feel that it is a disgrace to pass in review in automobiles. Kansas City will furnish the motor cars.

It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The Interest of All Politicians Is Centered About Suffrage Meeting

Atlantic City, N. J., August 2.—(By United Press)— Politicians here got their ears close to the ground in anticipation of the emergency-called convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage association which opens here September 6th. This was shown by letters and telegrams pouring in on suffrage leaders here today.

With the leaders of the Women's forces determined to follow up the victories gained at the Democratic and Republican national conventions, the action to be taken by the delegates here promises to hold as much interest for the political wiseacres as the Maine elections.

Morover, this interest is being stimulated by the air of mystery which hovers over the suffrage convention, as comparatively little news has leaked out to date concerning either the program or the plans of the leaders. Nor will the women at the head of the movement relieve the anxiety of the watchful political waiters with any advance information on the subject.

"We have called the convention so that every phase of every subject which concerns our cause, our policies and our organization may properly be considered," said Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, when interviewed here today.

"But what action are you going to take?" demanded the interviewer.

"That will be for the convention to decide," was the smiling reply. "You may state, however, that no voice will be silenced and no opinion suppressed." Further than that Mrs. Catt would say nothing.

Sixty-seven state suffrage organizations, covering every state in the union, are affiliated with the national suffrage association and will be represented at the convention, which will extend from September sixth through the tenth. Altogether, more than a thousand of the most representative women of the country will be in attendance.

Although the official program has not yet been made public, it is known that a three-sided debate between the supporters of state action, federal action and those who believe in both, will be one of the big features of the convention.

In the south the feeling is said to be strong against the national suffrage association abandoning any policy that would lead to a straight fight for a federal suffrage amendment.

In other sections of the country, however, notably in those states where amendments to the staet constitutions take years of work and are regarded as practically impossible, the sentiment is reported to be equally strong for the abandonment of state campaigns and a concentration of the National's machinery for a drive on congress.

Both of these factions will be well represented at the convention, as well as those suffragists who believe in a continuation of the policy of combined federal and state action, which has won 12 states for suffrage and converted millions of voters to believe in it all over the nation.

The clash between these factions will be watched with interest by the politicians, because the outcome may have a decided effect upon the fall campaigns of both the leading parties.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake Is Made by Many Clearfield Citizens

Look for the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right

A Clearfield resident tells you how.

James Strong, Williams St., Clearfield, says: "Some years ago, I was bothered by pains through my back, brought on by an injury. If I stopped over at my work and then tried to straighten up again, my back felt as though it would break in two. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at the Irwin Drug Co. They gave me splendid relief and seemed draw the pain right out of my back."

Hazel Dawn Thoroughly Captivating and Forcefully Convincing in "The Heart of Jenniper"

Hazel Dawn, one of the sweetest personalities that ever appeared on the screen, and one of the most beloved of the younger American stars, achieves another distinctive triumph in the Famous Players Film company's latest contribution to the Paramount program, "The Heart of Jennifer," by Edith Barnard Delano.

Next to Miss Dawn, strong situations and powerful dramatic construction are the two most conspicious assets of the production. The photoplay presents a situation in which a big financier finds himself staring into ruin, with the assistance of Welton, another money power, offered him on conditions that his daughter, Jennifer marry the other. To this bargain Jennifer refuses to accede, and she and her father leave for the wilds in order to liberate themselves from the society to which they cannot longer rightfully belong. In these rugged regions she meets James Murray, proprietor of a lumber tract, and as uncouth and wild as the country itself, with whom she however falls in love. It is after their marriage that Welton discovers a bogus note issued by Jennifer's father before his departure from the east, and planning to use this as a means of compelling Jennifer to marry him he sets out for the west. When he learns of her marriage, in spitefulness he tells Murray that she wed him only for his money, so influencing the unthinking husband that he leaves Jennifer. It is then that the drama reaches its most intense climax. Welton, who has had an earlier affair of a bad nature with Agnes, Murray's sister, is begged by her to protect her by marriage, and upon his refusal she kills him. Jennifer, with her great love for her husband, accepts the guilt of the crime in order to prevent Murray from learning of his sister's dishonorable position. This heroic act of sacrifice only makes Murray more embittered against her —until he learns the true situation, and is overcome with humility and love for the woman whom he had misunderstood and persecuted.

"The Heart of Jennifer" more than meets the exalted standard expected of all Famous Players productions. Miss Dawn is surrounded by an admirable cast, including James Kirkwood, who also directed the production Irene Howley and Russell Bassett. All of the numerous interior and exterior settings are well constructed and selected, especially those showing the working of the immense lumber camp.

The production, one of the strongest dramatic offerings of recent featurfe releases, will undoubtedly attract large crowns to the Opera House tomorrow evening.

REPUBLICANS HOLD UP CONFIRMATION OF SMITH

Big Business Recognizes Publicity.

By BREEN.

In latter years the biggest enterprises in this country have recognized the value of advertising. The men in charge of their advertising campaigns are paid splendid salaries. In fact, no branch of the business receives more attention. Publicity and advertising form the keynote of success.

If big business needs advertising doesn't small business need it?

Every man in business needs advertisin[illegible] If his business is a success he needs advertisin[illegible] to keep it so. If his business is struggling liberal advertising will build it up.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks" "runodwns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waster, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Mine No. 19 above the Pee-Wee's nest, owned and operated by Peale, Peacock & Kerr, is running full time and with a full assignment of men. From eight to ten cars of coal are shipped from these mines daily, and they give steady employment to some two hundred men.

Rev. I. P. Hawkins came to the conclusion that riding was almost as cheap as walking nowadays, so he invested in a five passenger Crow car. This machine is made at Elkhart, Indiana, and it is said of it that it will stand the wear and tear of our country roads about as well as any make representated in town.

The community Chautauqua is scheduled to open up this place on the 15th inst., and continue for a period of four days. This same organization held sessions in Curwensville several years ago and their work resulted in a whole lot of good to the town and its people. From the report of the work done by the different committees a large attendance is assured during the time that the Chautauqua will be held in town.

It is not generally known, but true nevertheless, that there are over seventy automobiles in Curwensville and close adjacnt boundaries. This represents money capital to the amount of over $75,000, gone out of the community which will never return through any medium of legitimate trade to the town again. It is a pretty large lump of money for Curwensville to lose when you come to think seriously about the town's finances and her mercantile trade.

Monday next the new proprietor of the Park hotel will assume official management of that hostlery. As was noted some days ago, J. E. Carpenter was the purchaser. It is expected that the license will be transferred on the 7th. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith have not, as yet, decided where they will locate or make their future home, suffice to say that since their residence in this town each has made many warm friends who will be sorry to see their departure, but nevertheless will wish both of them unalloyed success in whatever field they may locate.

THE DREAMER

He's only a dreamer, I hear men say,
A dreamer of worthless dreams;
Persuing in vain a phantom trail
In quest of elusive beams;
Treading the paths where fools have trod,
Deaf to warning and plea;
Content to dwell in fancy's realms,
A fool, yea a fool, is he.

He's only a dreamer, heart, mind and soul
Are all wrapped up in a magic spell;
Hearing, seeing, caring not
But for the things that they fortell;
Dwelling apart from his fellowmen;
Sufficient his dreams alone
To dispell the gloom of solitude
From a world thats all his own,

He's only a dreamer and dreamers dream
Of wonderful things such is their lot;
Some dream to height of wealth and fame,
Some dream and dreaming are forgot;
But the scoffers an dthe sceptic throng
Blinded by the cynic's view,
Join with the world to sing the praise
Of the dreamer who's dreams come true.

Deutschland Leaves For Home Disguised By Sea-Green Paint

Submarine Passed Pangier Point at Six A. M. But Has Not Been Seen Since---Waiting Till Nightfall

THOUSANDS WATCH FOR ITS APPEARANCE

Norfolk, Va, August 2—(By United Press)—The German cargo submarine Deutschland passed Pangier island, 50 miles up from Cape Charles at 6 o'clock this morning, but had not been heard from nearer Norfolk at 8.30 a. m. In this port it was believed that she might not come into Hampton Roads until night fall Marine men awaiting the under-sea boat's arrival had expected to see her here earlier, believing that she would reach Norfolks about 9 o'clock

At noon Norfolk and Newport News were nearly blind from the strain of looking across the waters outside of Hampton Roads in the hope for a glimpse of the Deutschland either coming or going on her way to sea.

No Virginia pilot has yet been asked for, and this strengthens the belief that Captain Koenig intends to lie somewhere up in the bay during the day Some possibilities that the Deutschland would shoot on out through the capes without touching here was seen in the fact of the weather conditions of the early morning, which made it perfect for the hazzard. A heavy haze concealed boats at a distance of two miles This same haze has hid the warships of the allies lying somewhere outside and caused the commander of the North Carolina to bring the American neutrality protector inside Cape Henry where she waited early this morning for the Deutschland to appear.

Baltimore, August 2—The Deutschland, the first merchant undersea boat to cross the Atlantic ocean, hade farewell to Baltimore yesterday afternoon and started her return journey toward Germany, through the allied blockade.

It was just 5 38 o'clock when the lines were thrown off and the craft was towed from her berth at the foot of Andre street, Locust Point, amid the blasts of whistles from the water craft surrounding, all of which seemed to wish the submersible good luck

The Deutschland was painted a sea green The irregular lines across the whaleback were of a dirty white and when the boat reaches deep water it will be impossible to distinguish her once she submerges When seen a few days ago the boat was painted a steel gray

The sailors on the submarine waved their handkerchiefs and hats in response to the cheers of those who wished them "bon voyage". The crew of the North German Lloyd liner Neckar, tied up at this port, stood at attention along the rail of the steamer as the Deutschland passed Their faces beamed as they saluted and shouted farewell cheers in German

These cheers were not all The Neckar gave another demonstration of best wishes in hoisting signal flags, which in code means "Homeward bound Good luck"

Then the German colors were unfurled from the stern of the larger ship It was the first time since the arrival of the submarine that the red white and black emblem has floated from the masts of the Neckar

BIJOU TRIO HERE TONIGHT

About eight hundred people thronged the big Chautauqua tent at both the afternoon and evening entertainments yesterday which were given by the college players and the Strollers quartette One of the largest crowds which has attended any entertainment yet was present at the one last evening on account of the doubly attractive program which was offered by the management

The Strollers quartette which is one of the best known on the Chautauqua platform rendered an exceptionally interesting program yesterday afternoon, which consisted of reading impersonation, instrumental music and bell ringing It was probably the best entertainment of its kind that has ever been given here at Chautauqua The entertainment in the evening was cut short on account of a play "Happiness" but was most interesting and was well received by the audience

"Happiness" a morality play written especially for the Chautauqua organization made a big hit with the audience it being the best play of the kind ever to be given here All parts were well portrayed The costumes and scenery were better than usually seen on the Chautauqua platform The moral which the play taught was one of truly merit

This evening the entertainment will be given by the Bijou Trio one of which is much talked about and experienced Instrumental music consists of operatic Negro songs in costume and a concert from the humorous point of view

Russians Report Enveloping Movement Near Completion About Kovel Front

FRENCH REPORT MANY GAINS

London, August 2.—(By United Press) — North and south of the Somme and on the eastern front German troops and their allies were further forced backward in the course of the last 24 hours, according to official statements from the capitals of the triple Entente today The Russian wedge separating the German and Austrian armies was driven ahead today so that the encirclement has been practically completed, petrograd dispatches declare.

The enveloping movement in Galicia is progressing, and it is believed that the railway terminus at Stojanef is now in Russian hands. This would give the Czar's armies control of all railway communications with Lemberg The utilization of the railways taken has greatly aided the Russians in their advance.

The French Communique states that the French has captured powerful fortifications between Hem and Monacu, and occupied German trenches northwest of Nersecourt. In the Campaigne region the Russian troops charged and dispersed the German forces. One hundred prisoners were taken.

BOARDERS WANTED

Meals and bed can be had by any resident of DuBois who makes the proper application to the County Commissioners and is accepted by them. Price is reasonable; only forty cents per day, but Palm Beach Suits, meals served in room and auto trips will be charged extra. Old fashioned home made bread, farm produce from a heavily capitalized farm and grub that is paid for by the County of Clearfield makes a capital bill of fare. DuBois should worry.

LET THE OTHER FELLOW WORRY

The DuBois Express is considerably wrought up over the inaction of DuBois council at their meeting night before last on several matters. According to reports about the only thing they acted favorably upon was the acceptance of the contract offered by the County Commissioners for the keeping of the poor of the city of DuBois at forty cents per day and charges for extras. They jumped at that like a trout at a fly. We desire to suggest to the Express that the council earned their money that night in the acceptance of the little plum offered them by their townsmen.

ADVERTISING GERMANY

Now that the Deutschland is gone we will look for the Bremen. When it has gone we will look for the dirigible they promise to send us. With the departure of the dirigible we can reasonably expect some other big sensation to be sprung on us by the indefatigable Germans. It is exceedingly doubtful whether the trip of the Deutschland will in the end prove profitable in cargo on account of the great risk involved. Germany years ago learned the value of advertising and the trip of the Deutschland is nothing more or less than an advertising venture and has brought great returns to the German Empire already. In Baltimore Germany and her inventive plans, her perseverence and her adroit moves in the submarine project are admired today where a few weeks ago there was nothing but scorn. Mayor Preston saw fit to honor the commander with every means at his command and the whole city joined in with him. Germany's advertising by such novel means has created a world of sentiment for her.

SWISS REPUBLIC'S NATAL DAY

Washington, D. C., August 2.—The Swiss legation in this city is in receiptt of advices from all parts of the United States where colonies of the Swiss people are in existence, telling of the elaborate fetes and fairs held during the past two days in celebration of the anniversary of Swiss nationality. The celebrations have been more fervent and heartfelt than in years because of the deep patriotism around as a result of Switzerland being surrounded by warring nations. Funds raised at the various celebrations will be forwarded through the Swiss legation to the home government whose resources have been seriously taxed by the war.

The present year marks the 625th anniversary of Swiss nationality. It was on August 1, 1291, that the men of Uri, Unterwalden and Schwyz joined in a solemn league and covenant forever against the Austrians. Their action is regarded as the foundation of the Swiss confederation.

BISHOP GRACE 75 YEARS OLD

Sacramento, Cal., August 2.—Rt. Rev. Thomas Grace, bishop of Sacramento and one of the best known Catholic prelates on the Pacific coast, was the recipient of many congratulations today on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. Bishop Grace was born and educated in Ireland, but his entire career as a churchman, covering a period of half a century, has been passed in this section. Previous to becoming bishop of Sacramento twenty years ago he had filled pastorates in various cities and towns of Nevada and California. Preparations are in progress for an appropriate circulation next year in honor of the golden jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

The National Geographic society's war geography bulletin issued in Washington today, thus describes Medina, Arabia, where the Turks are reported to have been signally defeated by the Arab revolutionists commanded by Sheriff Abduldah:

"'The City of the Prophet' 'The Perfumed' and 'The Illumined' are the names by which Medina is known to devout Mohammedans. As a place of pilgrimage it is second only to Mecca, the birthplace of the prophet. Although two or three travelers and students have evaded the cardon established by 'the faithful,' the city is closed to all non-Mohammedans for here is buried the great leader and here also is the holy tomb of his favorite daughter, the famed Fatima.

"Medina's population is variously estimated, the extremes being 16,000 and 50,000. It is one of the chief cities of Hejaz, the most desolate province of Arabia, and is more than 800 miles southeast of Damascus and 250 miles north of Mecca. These three cities are now connected by a railway, the construction of which was begun by the Turkish sultan, Abdul Hamid, in 1900.

"The only outstanding architectural feature of the city is the great mosque with the mausoleum adjoining. Beneath the crescent-crowned green dome of the latter building is supposed to rest the body of the prophet, undefiled by decay, his face turned everlastingly towards Mecca. The legend that the coffin was supposed to be suspended in midair by means of magnets is now said to have been a Western invention, having no place in the traditions of the faithful.

'While its squat, burned-brick houses with their monotonous flat roofs are unimpressive and far from picturesque, yet the setting of the city, amid luxuriant date-palm gardens and extensive cornfields, is beautiful. The fortifications consist of a solid stone wall from 30 to 40 feet high, with 30 towers, making it the principal stronghold of the Hejaz province. In the angle formed by the wall in the northwest section of the city is a castle where even in peace times the Turks maintain a strong garrison.

"Medina enjoys better and more abundant water than most of the cities of the near east. The source of supply for its underground cistern system is Kabu, a village two miles to the south, in one of the richest oases of the region. It was here that Mohammed made his home between the time that he was compelled to flee from Mecca and his entrance into Medina.

"The Red Sea port for Medina is Yembo, 125 miles to the southwest. It is a place of transit for pilgrims from Egypt en route to the holy cities of Arabia."

National Capitol At Last Completed

LIFTING THE LAST STONE

Maybe you thought the National Capitol at Washington was completed about fifty years ago. But it wasn't. The last stone was laid the other day, and this is a photograph of the operation. This was the last step in the construction of the pediment of the east wing of the house of representatives, a companion piece to the pediments over the main entrance and the senate wing. This portion of the house wing has been blank since the house wing was nominally completed in 1857. An appropriation of $75,000 in 1908 provided for the final work. This final pediment has been constructed by Paul Bartlett, who calls the design "The Democracy of the United States as expressed by the types of the working people."

May Reframe Constitution of Tennessee at Big Convention

Nashville, Tenn., August 2.—The question of whether a convention shall be held to reframe the Constitution of Tennessee will be settled by a special State election to be held tomorrow. The election is the result of action taken byq the recent legislature, supplemented by the proclamation of Governor Rye.

If the election results in the affirmative, then the voters of the state will select, on November 13, their delegates to the Constitutional convention. On November 14 the delegates will assemble in Nashville and organize for the purpose of drafting amendments to the present constitution. The people will be given opportunity to express their wishes with regard to the changes which are desired or necessary. When the proposed amendments have been adopted by the convention the new constitution will be submitted to the voters for ratification.

The movement for a revision of the constitution is of an entirely non-partisan nature. The agitation for a remodeling of the form of state government was begun several years ago and the necessity for changes that would make the present constitution up-to-date has been urged by chambers of commerce, improvement bodies and other organizations throughout the state.

The results of tomorrow's election and the further progress in the steps to revise the constitution will be followed with keen interest throughout the south, since virtually every state in this section of the country is confronted by the same problems which Tennessee is now attempting to solve.

The Tennessee constitution is virtually the same it adopted when admitted into the union in 1796, copied in great part from the still older constitution of North Carolina. Although Tennessee has since adopted two constitutions, one in 1834 and another in 1870, both of these were virtually replicas of the old constitution in their main features.

Nearly all of the southern states find themselves more or less in the same position as regards their fundamental laws. That this is so is regarded as a most wholesome sign of the times for Dixie, for it means that the states of the South are progressing far beyond the dreams of the far-sighted men who drew the present constitutions.

In Georgia and Texas there has been an increasing public demand for revisions of their respective constitutions. The constitution of Texas is some six years the younger document. Georgia's present constitution was adopted in 1877, and in many of the features contained in it is governed by conditions succeeding the civil war, as is the case with the Tennessee constitution. The movement in Texas is rather more definite than in Georgia, and it is not unlikely that Texas will take up the question of revision within the next year or so.

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of type into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

GREAT MAJORITY OF ALL CROOKS REMAIN SINGLE

Investigation Proves Fact That Marriage Diminishes Crime

Cleveland, August 2.—(By United Press)—After an investigation of 400 criminal cases, James J. Lind, Cleveland chief police prosecutor, has found out that nine tenths of all crooks are unmarried. Two thirds of the men jailed were between the ages of 21 and 30, according to his figures, available here today.

"It seems that conditions in unmarried life tend to make men criminals or that persons with criminal instanets are inclined not to marry," concluded Lind after his investigation.

"In 400 cases which passed through my office there was no definite economic condition that would result in crime.

"Only about half of the married prisoners had children and many of the married ones were separated from their families.

"As a rule women who take up crime are also single or at least separated from their husbands or families.

"This is hard to prove because women prisoners are not inclined to tell the truth. When a woman lands in jail she generally claims to be married and says if her husband hears of her predicament he will forsave her forever. She also claims to be the mother of several small children, dependent on her care—all of which, nine times out of ten, is untrue.

"If a married man gets into trouble he generally commits a real crime, not a misdemeanor. If a married man with children finds his way behind the bars, it is usually money troubles which have placed him there.

"But if any particular class of the human family is a menace to the rest, unmarried men are the guilty ones.

"The way to lessen crime is to advocate early marriages. What a man needs to keep him out of trouble is a good home environment.

"If mothers realized this they would cease opposing early marriages."

BASEBALL

THE FAST TRAVELING YANKEES

The Yankees have registered twelve shutout victories up to the present time.

In club batting the Donovanites have been holding down third place and in club fielding have stood fourth.

Philadelphia and Washington have been the easiest picking for the Yanks so far this season, the New Yorkers having won eleven games from each.

Mullen is the only member of the Donovan crew who has been able to stick with the .300 class of hitters. But lack of .300 swatters has not prevented the team from winning games.

Pitcher Ray Caldwell, who started to hang up a healthy batting average earlier in the season, has suffered a big slump in stock work. Pitching for a top-line team doesn't give a heaver much time in which to train his batting eye.

While Lee Magee is hitting under .250, against .327 in the Federal league last season, the brilliant gardener is leading the Yanks in base-stealing and otherwise putting up a flashy game.

"Germany" Schaefer comes through for a share of credit for the Yanks' dash. He is in a class by himself when it comes to "makin' a bit o' fun" for the boys.

Being shifted from the down-trodden Athletics to the hustling Yanks seems to have given Rube Oldring a new lease of life. The former Machman started pastiming for New York at top speed.

Pitcher Bob Shawbey, another former Mack pupil, is improving steadily in his work for the Donovan crew and present indications are that he will be up among the leading twirlers of the league before long.

Two years ago Frank Baker, Rube Oldring and Bob Shawkey were big factors in the winning of the American league pennant by the Athletics. Now this same trio of pastimers are striving to duplicate the trick for the Yankees.

The Yankees have not finished a season in the first division since 1910, when they landed second place. Since 1903, the year in which the American league invaded New York, the team has never won a pennant and only four times has it finished in the first division. In 1908 and 1912 it finished in the cellar.

Nick Cullop, the Yanks' star heaver and leading pitcher of the American league, was formerly with the Cleveland Indians. Last year he worked for the Kansas City Federal League team and finished the season in a tie with Eddie Plank for third place in the league's pitching records. Both pitchers won 21 games and lost 11.

The Yanks have been the pride pippins of the season in the matter of disabled players. Few teams could stand the gaff with such players as Frank Baker, Frank Gilhooley, Fritz Naisel, Nick Cullop, Ray Caldwell and Hughey High all out of the game at the same time on account of injuries.

Before tackling the job of manager "Smiling Bill" Donovan had a great reputation as a pitcher. He starred in the big show for many years, first as a member of the Brooklyn Superbas and later with the Detroit Tigers. Bill's first managerial experience was gained at Providence, where his fine showing as a pilot won for him his present berth as boss of the Yanks.

ENCAMPMENT IN AUGUST MAY BE THE LAST ONE

Kansas City, Mo., August 2.—(By United Press)—Twenty thousand veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic will mobilize here August 29 for the fiftieth national encampment. The fact that this will be the golden jubilee reunion, that it may be the last great encampment and that it will be the first in this section of the country in many years may send the crowd of visitors to 125,000.

While the young blood of the country is mobilized on the Mexican border, the "boys of '61" who fought to save the union will gather here for what promises to be the final review.

When the grey-haired and stooped veterans pass in review, few are expected to march. With the armies of today thoroughly motorized, the old men who wear the bronze button will not feel that it is a disgrace to pass in review in automobiles. Kansas City will furnish the motor cars.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture, you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The Interest of All Politicians Is Centered About Suffrage Meeting

Atlantic City, N. J., August 2.—(By United Press)— Politicians here got their ears close to the ground in anticipation of the emergency-called convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage association which opens here September 6th. This was shown by letters and telegrams pouring in on suffrage leaders here today.

With the leaders of the Women's forces determined to follow up the victories gained at the Democratic and Republican national conventions, the action to be taken by the delegates here promises to hold as much interest for the political wiseacres as the Maine elections.

Morover, this interest is being stimulated by the air of mystery which hovers over the suffrage convention, as comparatively little news has leaked out to date concerning either the program or the plans of the leaders. Nor will the women at the head of the movement relieve the anxiety of the watchful political waiters with any advance information on the subject.

"We have called the convention so that every phase of every subject which concerns our cause, our policies and our organization may properly be considered," said Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, when interviewed here today.

"But what action are you going to take?" demanded the interviewer.

"That will be for the convention to decide," was the smiling reply. "You may state, however, that no voice will be silenced and no opinion suppressed." Further than that Mrs. Catt would say nothing.

Sixty-seven state suffrage organizations, covering every state in the union, are affiliated with the national suffrage association and will be represented at the convention, which will extend from September sixth through the tenth. Altogether, more than a thousand of the most representative women of the country will be in attendance.

Although the official program has not yet been made public, it is known that a three-sided debate between the supporters of state action, federal action and those who believe in both, will be one of the big features of the convention.

In the south the feeling is said to be strong against the national suffrage association abandoning any policy that would lead to a straight fight for a federal suffrage amendment.

In other sections of the country, however, notably in those states where amendments to the staet constitutions take years of work and are regarded as practically impossible, the sentiment is reported to be equally strong for the abandonment of state campaigns and a concentration of the National's machinery for a drive on congress.

Both of these factions will be well represented at the convention, as well as those suffragists who believe in a continuation of the policy of combined federal and state action, which has won 12 states for suffrage and converted millions of voters to believe in it all over the nation.

The clash between these factions will be watched with interest by the politicians, because the outcome may have a decided effect upon the fall campaigns of both the leading parties.

Hazel Dawn Thoroughly Captivating and Forcefully Convincing in "The Heart of Jenniper"

Hazel Dawn, one of the sweetest personalities that ever appeared on the screen, and one of the most beloved of the younger American stars, achieves another distinctive triumph in the Famous Players Film company's latest contribution to the Paramount program, "The Heart of Jennifer," by Edith Barnard Delano.

Next to Miss Dawn, strong situations and powerful dramatic construction are the two most conspicious assets of the production. The photoplay presents a situation in which a big financier finds himself staring into ruin, with the assistance of Welton, another money power, offered him on conditions that his daughter, Jennifer marry the other. To this bargain Jennifer refuses to accede, and she and her father leave for the wilds in order to liberate themselves from the society to which they cannot longer rightfully belong. In these rugged regions she meets James Murray, proprietor of a lumber tract, and as uncouth and wild as the country itself, with whom she however falls in love. It is after their marriage that Welton discovers a bogus note issued by Jennifer's father before his departure from the east, and planning to use this as a means of compelling Jennifer to marry him he sets out for the west. When he learns of her marriage, in spitefulness he tells Murray that she wed him only for his money, so influencing the unthinking husband that he leaves Jennifer. It is then that the drama reaches its most intense climax. Welton, who has had an earlier affair of a bad nature with Agnes, Murray's sister, is begged by her to protect her by marriage, and upon his refusal she kills him. Jennifer, with her great love for her husband, accepts the guilt of the crime in order to prevent Murray from learning of his sister's dishonorable position. This heroic act of sacrifice only makes Murray more embittered against her —until he learns the true situation, and is overcome with humility and love for the woman whom he had misunderstood and persecuted.

"The Heart of Jennifer" more than meets the exalted standard expected of all Famous Players productions. Miss Dawn is surrounded by an admirable cast, including James Kirkwood, who also directed the production Irene Howley and Russell Bassett. All of the numerous interior and exterior settings are well constructed and selected, especially those showing the working of the immense lumber camp.

The production, one of the strongest dramatic offerings of recent featurfe releases, will undoubtedly attract large crowns to the Opera House tomorrow evening.

Big Business Recognizes Publicity.

By BREEN.

In latter years the biggest enterprises in this country have recognized the value of advertising. The men in charge of their advertising campaigns are paid splendid salaries. In fact, no branch of the business receives more attention. Publicity and advertising form the keynote of success.

If big business needs advertising doesn't small business need it?

Every man in business needs advertisin[illegible] If his business is a success he needs advertisin[illegible] to keep it so. If his business is struggling liberal advertising will build it up.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks" "runodwns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waster, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Rev. I. P. Hawkins came to the conclusion that riding was almost as cheap as walking nowadays, so he invested in a five passenger Crow car. The community Chautauqua is scheduled to open up this place on the 15th inst., and continue for a period of four days. This same organization held sessions in Curwensville several years ago and their work resulted in a whole lot of good to the town and its people. From the report of the work done by the different committees a large attendance is assured during the time that the Chautauqua will be held in town.

It is not generally known, but true nevertheless, that there are over seventy automobiles in Curwensville and close adjacnt boundaries. This represents money capital to the amount of over $75,000, gone out of the community which will never return through any medium of legitimate trade to the town again. It is a pretty large lump of money for Curwensville to lose when you come to think seriously about the town's finances and her mercantile trade.

THE DREAMER

He's only a dreamer, I hear men say,
A dreamer of worthless dreams;
Persuing in vain a phantom trail
In quest of elusive beams;
Treading the paths where fools have trod,
Deaf to warning and plea;
Content to dwell in fancy's realms,
A fool, yea a fool, is he.

He's only a dreamer, heart, mind and soul
Are all wrapped up in a magic spell;
Hearing, seeing, caring not
But for the things that they fortell;
Dwelling apart from his fellowmen;
Sufficient his dreams alone
To dispell the gloom of solitude
From a world thats all his own,

He's only a dreamer and dreamers dream
Of wonderful things such is their lot;
Some dream to height of wealth and fame,
Some dream and dreaming are forgot;
But the scoffers an dthe sceptic throng
Blinded by the cynic's view,
Join with the world to sing the praise
Of the dreamer who's dreams come true.
